eResearch Corporation is pleased to provide an article, courtesy of NFTRH.com, and written by Gary Tanashian, with a bio on the Author provided at the end of the article.

The article, starting on the next page, is entitled: “Amateur Cyclist’s Chart of SPX”

Biiwii.com was created in mid-2000 solely as a way to help get the message out about deeply-rooted problems about too much debt and leverage within the financial system. The concerns were confirmed and the message proved justified 3 to 4 years later as the system began to purge these distortions, resulting in a climactic washout extending from October, 2008 to March, 2009.

Along the way, a geek-like interest in technical analysis, a long-time interest in human psychology, and various unique macro market ratio indicators were added to the mix, with the result being a financial market newsletter (and dynamic interim updates), Notes From The Rabbit Hole (NFTRH) that combines these attributes to provide a service that is engaged and successful in all market environments by employing risk management first, and opportunity for speculation second.

Amateur Cyclist's Chart of SPX

By Gary Tanashian (bio at the end of the article)

March 29, 2017

First off folks, I am slammed with the flu and am pounding Advil in order to function. So, no great thought processes will be coming from nftrh.com today. But, I will try to throw short posts up here when I can.

The chart below was created some weeks ago using Stockcharts.com's cycles tool. We had projected that a top of some kind was due and, sure enough, the market corrected just a bit.

But, on this monthly view, you can see how non-corrective it has actually been. Using charts in other time frames, I think, we may go lower in the short-term on this 12 month cycle (C12), but the 30 month cycle (C30) is still a few months out and that could be when a really important high or low ensues.

If it is a high it would probably signal a bear market. If it is a low, it could be the doorway to the market's manic up-phase that finally sucks in the hold-outs.

Or, it could simply be a low in order to make a right shoulder (lower high) on a giant H&S.

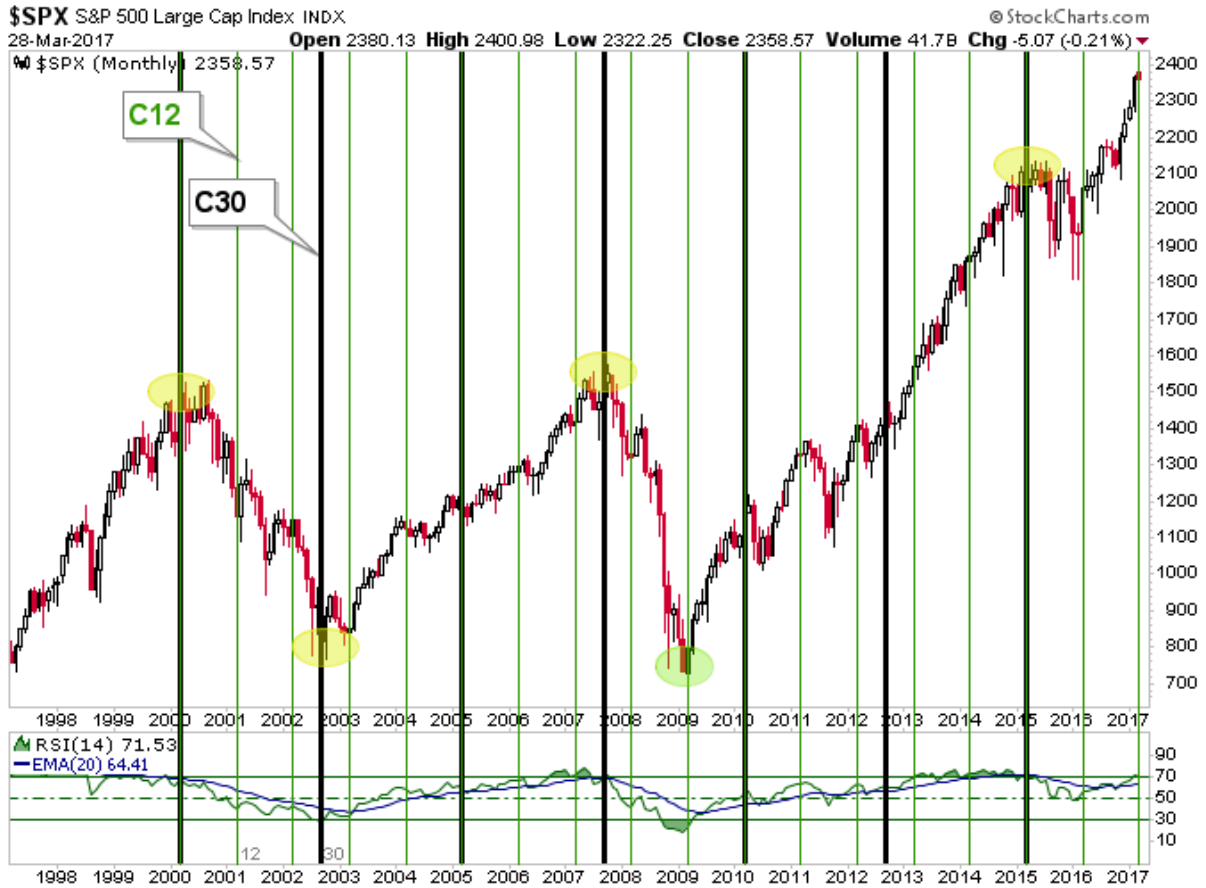

I am keeping an open mind, and I am in awe of the C30's track record at coinciding with major highs as well as the bear market low in 2002.

Of course, I remind you that this is the product of a non-cycles guy, so consider it for what it is worth.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Gary Tanashian is a financial market analyst, writer, and editor. He provides “Accurate financial market analysis and commentary focused on unbiased reality as opposed to preconceived assumptions.”

As a long-time participant in financial media (published at leading outlets like SeekingAlpha, Investing.com, and many more), Gary has learned how to communicate with people about often-complex material. He knows that it requires hard work, but he believes that there is no other way in order to provide the highest quality service to the public.

Gary is the owner of Biiwii.com (launched in 2004) and, later, NFTRH.com (launched in 2014).

Biiwii is a financial website that got it RIGHT in the run up to 2008, unlike many in the financial services industry.

He is the owner and publisher of the weekly premium financial market report Notes From The Rabbit Hole, which was launched in September, 2008.

Notes From The Rabbit Hole is a premium newsletter service (including detailed in-week updates) for people who care more about financial market realities than having their preconceived notions reinforced. <http://nftrh.com/nftrh-premium/>
