

Fear & Greed Index

Tuesday, August 15, 2017

The Fear & Greed Index reading for August 15 is: 36 – Fear. (Monday: 39 – Fear)

eResearch Corporation is pleased to provide CNNMoney's Fear & Greed Index.

Investors are driven by two emotions: fear and greed. Too much fear can sink stocks well below where they should be. When investors get greedy, they can bid up stock prices way too far. So, what emotion is driving the market now? CNNMoney's Fear & Greed Index gives the answer.

CNNMoney looks at 6 Indicators:

- Market Momentum: The S&P 500 (SPX) versus its 125-day moving average
- Market Volatility: The VIX (VIX), which measures volatility
- Junk Bond Demand: The spread between yields on investment grade bonds and junk bonds
- Stock Price Breadth: The volume of shares trading in stocks on the rise versus those declining
- Stock Price Strength: The number of stocks hitting 52-week highs and lows on the New York Stock Exchange
- Put and Call Options: The put/call ratio, which compares the trading volume of bullish call options relative to the trading volume of bearish put options

Each Indicator is analyzed to see how far it has veered from its average relative to how far it normally veers. Each Indicator is rated on a scale from 0 - 100. The higher the reading, the greedier investors are being; 50 is neutral.

Then all the Indicators are put together, equally weighted, for a final index reading.
