“Streamlined Report This Week”

Biiwii.com was created in mid-2000 solely as a way to help get the message out about deeply-rooted problems about too much debt and leverage within the financial system. The concerns were confirmed and the message proved justified 3 to 4 years later as the system began to purge these distortions, resulting in a climactic washout extending from October, 2008 to March, 2009.

Along the way, a geek-like interest in technical analysis, a long-time interest in human psychology, and various unique macro market ratio indicators were added to the mix, with the result being a financial market newsletter (and dynamic interim updates), Notes From The Rabbit Hole (NFTRH) that combines these attributes to provide a service that is engaged and successful in all market environments by employing risk management first, and opportunity for speculation second.

But It Is What It Is: You can access Biiwii at its website: www.biiwii.com.

Streamlined Report This Week

By Gary Tanashian (bio at the end of the article)

February 11, 2018

Well, folks, the market finally cracked and now things are in motion. In short, it is now going to get interesting from here forward. Last week, I covered some shorts (Semi & Real Estate), began buying at a logical correction point (SPX 200-day moving average) but by no means is this correction resolved. I would anticipate a continued bounce due to a sharply-improved sentiment backdrop, but... well, let this complimentary edition of NFTRH bring you up to speed not only on the U.S. markets, but global markets, precious metals, commodities, currencies, and more.

We were right on top of things prior to the correction as a signal in the Semi sector (Equipment Stocks vs. Chip Makers) went negative. Admittedly, I was using it as an economic signal but, as it turned out, it also called a 'heads up!' on the broad markets after we had been noting the grizzly over-bullish sentiment backdrop week after up-melting week.

The reason I am providing you the free edition of NFTRH today is to show you what a top level premium service (including updates, remember) this is, but also because, as you may have noticed, I just do not have as much time to sit down every week and write a quality piece of work for this list, and that is especially so now that things are in motion and the markets are becoming actionable.

So, I would completely understand if you would prefer to move on from the eLetter, and if you do not mind a little time between them (it has been over two weeks since the last one) I would be more than happy if you choose to stay on. But, for now, you can review the premium product hot off the press and consider taking an affordable subscription, because occasional emails are not nearly representative of ongoing quality service.

Simply click the graphic for your free report... and then consider having this kind of work at your fingertips every weekend and in-week with important market updates.

A Streamlined Report This Week

Let's not go into great detail about sentiment and internals indicators trying to ascertain something already fully in play. The stock market has finally cracked, making an A-B-C correction in micro time per a 30 minute chart. Sentiment is in play from the negative side, volatility is now intense and while we will gauge the macro regularly going forward, we also are in the realm of straight TA. So #486 is going to be a breeze for us this weekend as we get down mainly to more TA and less theory across various markets.
