PROFILE: Plato Gold Corp. is a Canadian junior mining exploration company that is active near both Marathon (niobium) and Timmins (gold) in northern Ontario, and in Santa Cruz (precious metals/base metals) in southern Argentina. Its flagship property is the Good Hope Niobium Property near Marathon, where there is proximity to exceptional mining infrastructure, including road, rail, hydro, water, and a mining-experienced labour force. Niobium is quite rare. There are only three known mines in the world that are currently mining niobium as the primary ore. Niobium has been declared a “strategic metal” by the U.S. government, with stockpiling recommended for niobium along with other strategic metals. Given the dearth of mines producing niobium, but the recognized strategic importance of the metal, it would be highly significant if Plato Gold Corp. is able to bring its niobium mine into commercial production. At the present time, the Company is waiting for assay results from a substantial number of samples from its recently-completed 5,000+ metre drill program. The samples are being analyzed for niobium as well as for a multi-element package that includes phosphorus and rare-earth elements. The first preliminary assay results are expected in Q3.
