Chart Notes:

1. Channel Breakers charts are based on daily closing prices and are appropriate primarily for short-term “traders”. Longer-term “investors” should focus on the weekly charts.
2. You can open a chart by <Ctrl-Click> on the Company Name in the above list.
3. On an opened chart, a BLUE dot is a bullish Early Warning signal.
4. On an opened chart, a RED dot is a bearish Early Warning signal.
5. The dot, Blue or Red, often appears when the stock is trading inside the stock price channel. It does NOT represent a Buy or a Sell signal if it is inside the channel.
6. A Buy signal occurs ONLY when the stock closes ABOVE the upper stock price channel line.
7. A Sell signal occurs ONLY when the stock closes BELOW the lower stock price channel line.
