China's Xi Pushes Back On Trade Deal

Remember last week when markets got all optimistic at the possibility that U.S. President Donald Trump and China's President Xi Jinping would be able to hammer out an end to the U.S.-China trade deal when they meet at the Group of 20 meeting in Buenos Aires on November 30-December 1? A report that President Trump had ordered his staff to prepare a negating letter sent stocks higher.

Well, maybe not quite so quickly.

In a speech in Shanghai on Monday, President Xi hit back against the Trump administration's "America First" policies and denounced "beggar-thy-neighbor" trade practices.

"All countries should strive to improve their business environment and solve their own problems," Xi told the China International Import Expo. "They should not always whitewash themselves and blame others, or act like a flashlight that only exposes others, but not themselves."

Conspicuously absent from Xi's speech were any proposals that would meet U.S. demands for an end to subsidies for state-owned enterprises or increased Chinese protection for intellectual property rights. In response, Trump hung tough on Monday.

"We are in a very big dispute with them right now, and we are winning," Trump said on a conference call. China wants to make a deal but, if they don't, that is fine as well, he said.

About the Author

Editor and Founder of JubakPicks.com; and Senior Markets Editor, MoneyShow.com

Web sites: www.jubakpicks.com; <http://jubakfund.com/>; <http://jubakam.com/>

BW: here is an excerpt from Jim's WELCOME message on his website

After twelve years with MSN Money, I am excited at being on my own. The move gives me a chance to bring you, my readers, more and better ideas for profitable investing. Each week the folks at the MoneyShow.com and MSN Money will publish seven of my posts from this blog on their sites. That is already an increase in your weekly dose of Jubak from the days when I wrote Jubak's Journal twice a week. But you will also find another 18 or so posts a week on my JubakPicks.com blog that do not appear on either of those two sites. (Although they have appeared as much as three days ago and as little as a few minutes ago, if they are really important) on my new subscription site at <http://jubakam.com/>)

Here I am aiming for five posts a day five days a week. I won't always get to those numbers. Some posts just take longer to research and write and sometimes, like everyone else, I run out of gas and need to take a break. But my goal isn't some arbitrary number of posts, anyway. The goal is to bring you the best market intelligence that I can on a schedule that keeps you at least one step ahead of the market.
