

What Is The Right Amount Of Attention For Wall Street To Pay Donald Trump?

eResearch Corporation is pleased to provide an article/video from The Reformed Broker, featuring Josh Brown.

The Reformed Broker is a blog about financial markets and the economy.

From Josh Brown's website: My blog is about markets, politics, economics, media, culture and finance. I'll use statistics, satire, anecdotes, pop culture references, sarcasm, fact, fantasy, and any other device that I feel necessary to get my points across.

What I don't do on this site is give financial advice or tell anyone what to invest in. The Reformed Broker is a forecast-free blog. What I will do on this site is provide you with a running commentary of my market-related insights and thoughts as events unfold. I'll point you toward other interesting content around the web. I'll challenge your perceptions, call it like I see it and, occasionally, I'll make you laugh.

What Is The Right Amount Of Attention For Wall Street To Pay Donald Trump?

By Josh Brown
January 13, 2019

BW: You can access the podcast on the link below, which will take you right to the website of The Reformed Broker. The video runs for 51 minutes and Josh Brown's comment is at Minute 26.

Here is the commentary about the video:

The 21-day current government shutdown as of Friday, has no end in sight. President Trump continues to weigh declaring the situation along the U.S.-Mexico border a national emergency and build a barrier using money set aside for disaster aid. Gene Sperling was the former director of the National Economic Council for Presidents Clinton and Obama during shutdowns in the 1990's and 2013. He says the shutdown is holding the country hostage.

The panel debates newly elected congressman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez's proposal for a top income tax rate of 70% to finance the "Green New Deal." CNBC contributor and CEO of Ritholtz Wealth Management Josh Brown gives an update on the status of the stock market during Trump's administration.

And, finally former Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Russia, Ukraine, and Eurasia during the Obama Administration Evelyn Farkas dives into the U.S. military's withdrawal from Syria and Secretary of State Mike Pompeo's controversial speech this week in Egypt.
